ILD Campus and Resources

The unique environment of the ILD campus at Jaipur spread over 30 acres promises a dynamic campus experience. Arriving to it through a picturesque road winding through rows of honey coloured traditional homes, one can catch glimpse of the Aravalli hills, the rugged terrain, clusters of villages and imposing gateways.

With a built up area of over 5000 sq.metres, it offers both residential and non residential training programmes, the campus has excellent accommodation facilities (board and lodging) for up to 25 participants on a single and 50 participants on a twin sharing basis. The campus is equipped with a progressive library, modern class rooms and lecture halls with the latest teaching aids.

The hub of the campus is the main building styled in the traditional architectural style. Its imposing structure, balanced with delicate jali work, contains a huge central hall, which in turn branches off into the class rooms, lecture halls, smaller conference rooms, the administration offices and the dining and kitchen areas.

The neat symmetry of the building is offset by the carefully nurtured gardens that are visible from all sides of the building. The architecture encourages open spaces and is ideal for interaction and camaraderie, extending the participant's learning beyond the classroom.

Beyond the building and its lawns lies a natural terrain of over 25 acres populated with rock formations and the native acacia trees.
